For over two months we wait for a new issue of the Antaloor post. Today JÃ¶rg Schindler the PR-Director of Zuxxez entertainment has published a press release:

Dear "Antaloor Post" Readers,

You've probably been wondering about the AP for a while - and waiting for more news from us about the "Two Worlds" universe. Well, your patience will soon be rewarded!

And don't worry... neither the game nor the "Antaloor Post" is being put on ice! But we've been really busy with the game in the last few weeks - there's been so much for us to do with "Two Worlds" that we just haven't had the time to turn our hands to anything else!

However, you'll be pleased to know that preparations for the next issue are already underway - and we'll soon be giving you all the inside info on how the game's progressing!

Until then - be cool, be happy and live your dreams, folks!

Therefore we may be glad everything further on a good sequel of Two Worlds
